

SAID a busy Salt Lake society woman the other day, "I seldom see my friends nowadays to visit with them; social calls between friends seem to be a thing of the past, now so much time is spent in flying around in automobiles. Of course we call each other up over the telephone and keep in touch with each other, but it is not as satisfactory as talking face to face, although it saves time, and one doesn't have to dress and go out."

Modern inventions undoubtedly are of great value, but do not the girls of the present day miss many of the graceful little courtesies of polite society that occupied so large a part in the lives of their mothers?

For instance, in these days, instead of the interesting little notes that used to be the medium of communication between girl friends when small brothers were oftentimes unwillingly pressed into the service, or a neighbor's boy would play the part of messenger for a small consideration, a talk over the telephone answers every purpose. The young girls of the present day can never know the thrill of pleasure that attended the receiving of a note directed in a well known masculine hand, delivered by the office boy, and containing an invitation or offer of an escort to some society function. The present method would be a brief arrangement over the indispensable telephone.

To be sure it was rather an effort in a literary line properly to answer the important missive, and dainty, up-to-date stationery, with monogram and seal, was supposed to be necessary adjuncts of my lady's writing desk. Again, instead of the daily anticipation of the mail, when invitations to social affairs with the engraved visiting card of the hostess, would afford an interesting topic of conversation in the family circle, the same invitation is now delivered over the long-suffering telephone.

It has not been proved that the effect of dropping the little courtesies considered a large part of the society woman's life, has resulted in giving more hours of leisure, for it is the cry of the hour, "Where do the days go?" I don't accomplish anything, yet always seem to be busy."

There seems to be a feeling of social unrest in the air and the problem remains to be solved.

Society is beginning to revive somewhat under the stimulus of a few moderately cool days, and the immediate effect can be noticed by means of social events in the way of receptions, teas and luncheons for out-of-town guests, of whom there are quite a number in the city at the present time, and many more are expected at the different hospitable homes where entertainments will be in order.

August is generally the one month in the year when society is out of town. This summer the season began earlier than usual and will close sooner. School also begins on the 29th of the present month, and early dates, than ever before, and this will have the effect of bringing families in from camps and resorts a week or so before the date set, in order that the dear children, who form so important part of the family circle, may be in readiness. The early date does not mean, however, universal favor among teachers and pupils, as it only curtails their vacation, but the weather of the last of August and the first weeks of September is not conducive to close application to study or to confinement in a school room.

Week in Society

The William H. Child home in East South Temple street was thrown open yesterday afternoon on the occasion of a delightfully informal tea for 3 to 400 guests. Mrs. Arthur H. Hertzler of Manchester, Pa., Mrs. Fred C. Derr, sister of the complimented guest, assisted the gracious hostesses in receiving and entertaining. In the dining room Mrs. W. H. McIntyre, Mrs. Hal W. Brown and Mrs. George E. Ainsworth, assisted the hostesses. The early date of the tea, which was a large basket of golden glow, with bow and streamers of yellow tulle, formed the artistic central decoration. Golden glow was also seen in profusion throughout the cool, attractive rooms.

Assisting also in the dining room were the Misses Mildred McMillan, Allen Maclean, Stella Fabian and Gertrude Hanson, while punch was served during the afternoon by Mrs. W. P. Kiser and Mrs. Roscoe M. Breeden. The affair was pronounced one of the pleasantest of the summer social events, and it was a delightful opportunity for the many friends of Mrs. Hertzler, who, as Miss Elizabeth McIntyre, held a prominent place in Salt Lake society, to greet her after her long absence from her childhood home.

Miss Gertrude Ingalls entertained very pleasantly yesterday afternoon at her home for Miss Abigail Jones in anticipation of her approaching marriage. The affair took the form of a tin shower, and the details were carried out in an interesting manner, the guests present being members of the bridal party. The hostess was assisted by her sister, Miss Jeanne Ingalls, and the rooms were bright with vases of golden glow. Games of various kinds were features of the afternoon.

There were the usual number of private dinners enjoyed last evening at the Country club, together with those taking advantage of the table d'hôte dinner. Among the hostesses who entertained parties of friends, all of whom remained for the dance that followed, were Mrs. D. C. Jackling, Miss McCormick, Miss Williams and Romola King.

For her guest, Miss Eva Farrable of Deer Lodge, Mont., Miss Marguerite Richmond entertained informally yesterday afternoon with a bridge tea. A color scheme of lavender was charmingly carried out in the decorations, where sweet peas in the delicate shades were gracefully used. Four tables of the game were played. The young hostess was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Charles King.

A delightful lake party was given yesterday afternoon and evening at Salsair by Miss Hazel Robinson for her guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ray Kennedy, who have been stopping a few days in the city on their way from the east to their home in Los Angeles. The party of eight went out in time for a dip in the lake, which was followed by a dinner in the ship cafe.

A Lagoon party was given Friday evening by Lyster Chambers in compliment to Miss Winnie Rhoades of Oakland, Cal. The party motored out to the resort, where dinner was enjoyed.

Miss Anna L. McNulty, secretary of the National Art society, gave a pretty appointed dinner Wednesday evening at the Wilson, when her guests were Mrs. C. H. McMahon, Mrs. G. W. Moyer and Mrs. Kate Hillard of Ogden, all of whom are members of the board of directors of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Country club Thursday evening was the scene of one of the most picturesque social affairs of the season on the occasion of the dancing party given by Mr. and Mrs. P. E. McGurrian in honor of their niece, Miss Margaret Baché of Los Angeles. Nothing was left undone to make the event a memorable one. Misses of golden glow adorned the large room where dancing was enjoyed, and formed a pretty setting for the charming guest of honor and her cousin, Miss Jane Darling, who received the large number of guests under the soft light of Japanese lanterns.

The decorations in the dining room were unusually attractive and artistic. By an ingenious arrangement of mirrors and potted palms the effect of a miniature forest was produced with a lake in the center, dotted with small white swans holding paddles. The pansy colors were carried throughout especially in the programs, which held the monogram of the young hostess.

Punch was served on the lawn under an immense Japanese umbrella, and strings of Japanese lanterns hanging on the veranda and the lawn with charming effect. A stringed orchestra furnished the music of the evening, which was enjoyed by about one hundred young people.

The early part of the week was marked by a very pleasant party and musical at the suburban home of Captain and Mrs. F. M. Bishop, the occasion being the sixty-seventh birthday of Mr. Bishop. Japanese lanterns and strings of electric lights brilliantly lighted the lawn, where supper was served, and which was comfortably arranged with seats, couches and rugs. The pillars of the spacious veranda, where the musical program was given, were wound with flowers and ferns. The excellent program was arranged by Fred C. Graham. These taking part were Mrs. Lucia Ferrin Sharp, Miss Ivy Allen, Horace Ensign, Victor Christopherson, Thomas Ashworth, Alvin Beesley, Howard Anderson, Mr. Graham and Sam Winters. More than one hundred guests enjoyed the delightful affair.

A delightful social event was given at Salsair Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Sig. Simon in the form of a dancing party in honor of their guest, Miss Stella Fuchman of Louisville, Ky. The party left for the lake at 6:30 in a special car. An elaborate dinner was served in the ship cafe, where the tables were handsomely decorated with golden glow, brass baskets filled with flowers and ferns forming an effective centerpiece. Following the dinner dancing was enjoyed until a late hour. Mr. and Mrs. Simon were assisted in entertaining by Mr. and Mrs. Sol Goldstein of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Leon.

Beautifully appointed luncheons were given at the Country club Wednesday by Miss Louise Sullivan, who entertained for Mrs. R. H. Allen of Governor's Island, and by Miss Lucille Franke, whose guests of honor were Mrs. W. G. B. Terrell and Miss Lydia Boyd of Twin Falls, Ida.

Captain and Mrs. Frank T. Hines have been the recipients of much social attention. The former is enjoying a leave of absence from his military post, Fort Monroe.

Mrs. Arthur Croxford entertained at a pleasant luncheon in compliment to Mrs. E. E. Sherlock of Los Angeles and Mrs. W. Green of Detroit, Mich.

Miss Eva Larabee of Deer Lodge, Mont., as the guest of Miss Marguerite Richmond, is receiving much social attention. Several informal luncheons and card affairs have already been given in her honor with a number scheduled for the present week.

A pleasant college affair was given Thursday afternoon by Miss Ruth Storer for her guest, Miss Edith Christy of Sharon, Pa. Flowers of the college colors, yellow, decked the rooms, where college pennants and pillows were also used. College games were played, prizes being won by the guest of honor and Miss Ruth Palmer.

Health and Beauty Talks

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

A. W. A.: You say you can find nothing that will protect tender skin from the sun. Try this and I know you will not suffer from sunburn, tan or freckles. Dissolve four ounces of aprimax in one-half pint hot water and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Apply this, with the palm of the hand, to the face, neck and forearms in the morning and you will find it will not rub off or show like powder. It is a perfect skin-made eye tonic, for it restores and preserves the soft and rosy color of youth. This inexpensive lotion is especially fine for those who have dark, sallow or oily skin.

S. L. J.: Very few women are blessed with eyes that are naturally "beaming and radiant." Most probably those dazzling eyes you envy are the result of using a tonic to strengthen and brighten the eyes. Get from your druggist one ounce of erysost and dissolve it in a pint of water and you will have perfect home-made eye tonic. One or two drops in each eye will relieve inflammation, dullness, redness and soreness. It will not smart or burn. Most persons with weak eyesight find they can dispense with eyeglasses after using this tonic daily a month or so.

G. L. M.: "Shampoo" is a word of Hindoo origin and means "to lather, rub and wash the head." When using cantarox for shampooing, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water; pour on the head a little at a time and rub well—just as you would with an ordinary shampoo; then rinse the hair and scalp thoroughly with warm water. Cantarox makes an abundance of lather and will remove that fine scurf of which you complain, for it is nothing more than a very fine sand. It is the soap when shampooing, for it leaves the scalp hot and hard and causes streaks in the hair when drying. When you use cantarox the hair grows quickly and is soft, bright, fluffy and not streaky.

Ostris: Have you tried to preserve your youthful looks? Is your husband correct when he says you do not look as young as you should? If you want to keep your skin clear, fresh and velvety, you must take care of it, so almonox cream jelly, both as a massage and face cream and your complexion will be fine and free from blemish. Get from your druggist one ounce of almonox cream jelly, both as a massage and face cream and your complexion will be fine and free from blemish.
